Subject: Application for Long Stay (D) Study Visa

Dear Visa Officer,

I, Sidratul Muntaha Mou, a Bangladeshi citizen residing in Dhaka, Bangladesh, am writing to respectfully apply for a Long Stay (D) Study Visa to pursue the BA (Hons) in Business (Management) at Dublin Business School (DBS), commencing in January 2026. I am eager to advance my education in Ireland and believe this program will strongly support my academic growth and long-term professional ambitions.

My academic background in business began during my secondary and higher secondary studies under the National Curriculum of Bangladesh, where I chose Business Studies as my major discipline. Through subjects such as accounting, finance, and management, I developed a solid understanding of core business principles. These subjects also sparked my interest in how organizations operate, how strategic decisions are made, and how businesses adapt to changing environments. I further strengthened this foundation at Central Women's College (2022–2024), where coursework, case studies, and group projects enhanced my analytical skills, teamwork abilities, and overall academic confidence.

Along with my academic preparation, I have developed practical skills that are increasingly important in modern business. I am proficient in Excel, Power BI, Tableau, QuickBooks, and have working familiarity with Python for financial analysis. Through hands-on practice, I have gained experience in budgeting, forecasting, basic financial modeling, and preparing reports using industry-aligned methods. These skills have helped me understand the importance of data-driven decision-making, and I believe they will support my success in the Business (Management) program at DBS.

I have chosen Ireland because of its strong reputation for high-quality, industry-focused education and its welcoming, multicultural environment. As an English-speaking country with strong academic standards, Ireland offers international students an excellent platform to gain modern business knowledge. Compared to business programs in Bangladesh, which often emphasize theoretical learning, Ireland provides a more practical, globally oriented curriculum with exposure to real industry contexts. This aligns with my goal of gaining a well-rounded business education that prepares me for the demands of a competitive global market.

My choice of Dublin Business School is motivated by its established reputation, diverse student community, and strong emphasis on practical learning. The BA (Hons) in Business (Management) curriculum covers key areas such as entrepreneurship, digital strategy, operations, and international business—all of which align closely with my career interests. I am confident that the academic environment at DBS, combined with its location in Dublin—one of Europe's leading business hubs—will provide valuable learning opportunities and professional exposure.

I plan to arrive in Ireland on 02 January 2026, before my induction on 03 January, with classes starting on 12 January 2026. I have enclosed all required documents, including my admission letter, academic certificates, financial evidence, and travel information.

I am fully committed to complying with all Irish immigration regulations. I will not rely on public funds or become a financial burden on the Irish State. My tuition fees and living expenses have been fully arranged, and I have no family members residing in Ireland or the EU. After completing my degree, I intend to return to Bangladesh to pursue a career in business management, strategy, or entrepreneurship. Thank you for considering my application. I sincerely request your approval.

Yours faithfully,

Sidratul Muntaha Mou
